

Do you have interesting stories for the second volume of Flight: Stories of Canadian Aviation?

The second book in the Flight series will be released in 2020.

DriverWorks Ink publishing is accepting submissions for the second volume in the collection of true short stories (no poems please) about events that occurred to pilots, air traffic controllers, and other Canadian aviation enthusiasts. We want true stories of danger, heroism, helping, joy, adventure, silliness, misfortune, etc.

Stories should be 1,000 to 2,500 words. Photos may be submitted upon acceptance of your story. Please provide details including your name, address, phone number, and email address, as well as the names, dates, location, and other details of the people and places in your story. Please send your submissions before Dec. 15, 2019 by email (ddriver@sasktel.net) or mail to DriverWorks Ink, 110 N. McCarthy Blvd, Regina, SK S4R 6A4 or contact Deana Driver to have her write your story. All submissions will be accepted but not all will be published. Those whose stories are published will receive a one-time payment of $50 per published story, two complimentary copies of the book, and the ability to purchase more copies at a 40% discount. Thank you in advance. We look forward to hearing from you.
