RE: NAV CANADA Transition of Services – Winnipeg FIC to Edmonton FIC – Effective 30 April 2021 0901z

We hope this letter finds you, your colleagues and your family well and safe in these challenging and uncertain times.

NAV CANADA, the country's civil air navigation services provider is in the process of transitioning Flight Information Centre (FIC) services from its Winnipeg FIC to the Edmonton and London FICs.

A first phase will see the transition of FIC services in Saskatchewan and Nunavut between Winnipeg FIC and Edmonton FIC implemented 30 APRIL 2021 at 0901z.

Pilots and dispatchers in the Prairie and Central regions will continue to receive the same vital information they need, including flight-planning services, in-depth interpretive weather information and en-route flight information, which will be provided by the Edmonton flight information centre (please see contact information below). Air traffic services will not be impacted by this change.

Please note Edmonton FIC's contact information and unit identification below as it will change from Winnipeg Radio to Edmonton Radio.

To support broader awareness to these changes, we will be publishing NOTAMs in reference to the transition process and updating upcoming aeronautical publications. In addition, a notice has been posted on the NAV CANADA website.

NOTAMs are accessed through NAV CANADA's Collaborative Flight Planning Service, the link can be accessed here: <https://plan.navcanada.ca/wxrecall>.

At this time, we would like to thank you for your collaboration and support in regard to the transition of FIC services. We remain available should you have any questions or feedback.

Sincerely,
